

Sarah B. | Human Capital Management Consultant

Professional Background:

Studied Insect Biology at University of California, Davis. After college Sarah worked the graveyard shift imaging neurons for drug discovery at University of California, San Diego. She later joined Coastal Payroll in 2014 after a long search for the right position with the right people.

Key Strengths:

Supportive, hopeful, skeptical, problem-solver, celebrates absurdity

Milestones:

- Jumped from English Lit to Chemistry/Biology in 2008
- Moved to Davis and discovered Entomology in 2010
- Moved to San Diego and got into macrophotography during 2012
- Celebrating 7 years with now-fiancé in July 2016

Personal notes:

Sarah loves the natural world, particularly its tiny working parts, and spends time poking/photographing wild things on the weekend. She also loves creative people, fatty foods, terrible music, and low-brow comedy.

"People scream my name when they see a live spider or a dead bird, and I totally embrace that. If there's a spider, yo, I'll move it."
